PRINTED BY ORDER OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1893.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TORONTO, 26th January, 1893.

To the Honorable COLONEL GIBSON, Q.C., M.P.P., &c.,

Provincial Secretary,

Toronto.

SIR,— I have the honor to submit the accompanying reports respecting the various organizations authorized to undertake contracts of insurance, indemnity or guarantee in the Province of Ontario. Of these organizations the Act of 1892 (55 Vict. Chap. 39) distinguishes three great classes :—

A. Registered Dominion Licensees : being Insurance Corporations or Companies licensed and inspected by the Dominion of Canada and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance in the Province.

B. Provincial Licensees : being Insurance Companies licensed, inspected and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

C. Friendly Societies : being Societies registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

Of these classes the Companies comprised in class B (Provincial Licensees) are here reported on in the usual form and with the usual financial details pursuant to the provisions of the Ontario Insurance Act.

The report upon class A (Dominion Licensees) relates to their mode and place of incorporation : their statutory powers, duties, rights and obligations ; their internal organization ; the relation of the members inter se ; the liabilities of the members to creditors of the Company ; the kind or kinds of insurance for which the Company is now registered in Ontario ; and the extent to which assets of the Company have been deposited in various countries as special security for the policy holders of those several countries.

The report upon Division C relates to Friendly Societies ; to their mode and place of incorporation ; the statutes and instruments under which the Societies were constituted, and those by which they are now governed ; the kind of insurance or insurance-benefits undertaken ; the report also shows inter alia, whether or not the certificate holders generally are secured by a reserve fund ; and, if a reserve fund is maintained, whether any of this reserve is held in Ontario ; and, if any, how much, how invested, and by whom held or controlled.

Examples of the Directions and Judgments given during the year by the Registrar of Friendly Societies, are printed as an Appendix to Division C, and will serve further to illustrate the practical operation of the new Act.

In order to prevent unnecessary delay in publication, the three Divisions have been placed simultaneously in the printers' hands—the pages of the several Divisions being distinguished by the Division letter prefixed. Division indexes have been inserted at the end of the volume. These indexes show the Companies and Societies standing registered at the 26th January, 1893.

Besides requiring all bodies undertaking insurance to be registered, the new Act requires registration of the individual agents of Life and Accident Insurance Companies. The concluding index shows in alphabetical order of all such agents standing registered at the 16th January, 1893. At that date the list comprised 1,561 names.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. HOWARD HUNTER,

Inspector of Insurance and Registrar of Friendly Societies.

Sec. 3. 5. Where a member is killed in the discharge of duty, or dies within six months from injuries received in the execution of duty, an allowance equal to two months' pay for each year's service shall be paid to the parties mentioned in the next preceding sub-section, provided always that the said amount shall not be less in the respective cases than once and a half the allowance provided in the next preceding sub-section.

4.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE CANADIAN EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE CANADIAN EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Wednesday, 7th December, 1892.

The Canadian Educational Endowment Association applies for registry as a friendly society. Upon examination of the application and exhibits I find the applicant body to be a kind of tontine investment society issuing certificates to shareholders on certain life contingencies. Under the provisions contained in section 4 of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, such a society is not admissible to registry. Even if the society were otherwise admissible, the application and exhibits do not show the society to be solvent. The application must be refused.

5.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE FRATERNAL MYSTIC CIRCLE
—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE FRATERNAL MYSTIC CIRCLE.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Friday, 16th December, 1892.

1. The Fraternal Mystic Circle applies for registry as a friendly society, incorporated in the State of Ohio and having its Head Office at Columbus in that State. The case is therefore governed by section 10 of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

2. Now that section requires the applicant society to furnish proof inter alia, that "the society was before the eleventh day of March, 1890, in actual bona fide operation in Ontario and at the date of application for registry has a subsisting membership of at least five hundred persons, such persons being bona fide residents of Ontario."

3. The Society did not deliver its application by the 30th day of June, 1892, the date prescribed by the Act ; but, on affidavit showing cause, the Registrar extended the time for the delivery of the application. The application bearing date the 15th day of July, 1892, was delivered on the 20th of that month.

4. The application, which was upon the usual printed form supplied by the Department of Insurance, requires by paragraph 20 a statement of the documentary evidence furnished as an exhibit to the application and intended to prove the number of members in Ontario as that number stood on the 10th March, 1890. Also paragraph 21 requires a similar statement of the proof tendered as to the number of members at the date of application, (not being later than 30th June, 1892.) The answer made in the application to each of these requirements was, "Evidence of membership will be supplied later."

5. No evidence whatever has been furnished or attempted to be furnished of the membership or operation, or even existence of the Society in Ontario before the eleventh day of March, 1890. And therefore under the section of the Act cited the application must fail upon this ground if upon no other.

6. On September 14th, 1892, the Society delivered a paper entitled "Name and address of Members of the Fraternal Mystic Circle, Toronto, Ontario, Canada." This paper is not properly in evidence, but it was apparently designed to satisfy the requirements of paragraph 21 of the application, and to prove the state of the membership at the 30th June, 1892. This list of members contains only 379 names, made up of 142 "suspended members," 42 "honorary members" and 192 persons simply designated "members." The section of the Act above cited requires proof that the society had at the date of application (not being later than the 30th June, 1892), "a subsisting membership of at least five hundred persons, such persons being bona fide residents of Ontario." Upon this ground therefore also the application fails.

Registry is refused.

6.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE ORDER OF SCOTTISH CLANS.
—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT AND THE ORDER OF SCOTTISH CLANS

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Monday, 6th December, 1892.

The Order of Scottish Clans applies for registry as a foreign friendly society having its Head Office in Boston, in the State of Massachusetts. Upon examination of the application and exhibits I find that the applicant body is incorporated under the law of Massachusetts ; but neither has, nor claims to have, any corporate status under the law of Ontario or Canada. The case therefore falls under section 10 of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892. That section requires, inter alia, proof that the applicant Society had at the date of application (being not later than the 30th June, 1892.) “a subsisting membership of at least five hundred persons, such persons being bona fide residents of Ontario. The Order of Scottish Clans claims by its application to have in Ontario “not more than 78 members.” The Society is therefore not admissible to registry ; and the application must be refused.

7.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE BRITISH NORTH AMERICA
BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE BRITISH NORTH AMERICA PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

5th December, 1892.

1. Upon examination of the Application and exhibits of the Society styling itself the British North America Provident Association I find that the Association applies for registry as a friendly society incorporated by declaration dated the 16th July, 1887, and filed on the 1st day of August, 1877, in the office of the Clerk of the Peace for the County of Middlesex, pursuant to R. S. O., 1877, chapter 167, commonly known as the Benevolent Societies' Act. That declaration sets forth that "the purposes of the Association are to encourage its members in habits of prudence, providence, and thrift, to form a fund for the mutual benefit of the contributors thereto and to provide for the widows and orphans of deceased members by raising sums for their benefit by mutual contribution (Declaration, par. 2.)

2. Exhibit 11 to the Association's application for registry contains a copy of the constitution founded upon the foregoing declaration and published in 1887. Under the title "object," article 2 of that constitution says: "2. The object of this Association shall be for making provision (by means of monthly contributions) against death, for the widows and children, or other heirs or assigns of the deceased member." No other object is stated. An affidavit of James Bell Cook bearing date the 29th June, 1892, and made for purposes of the present application for registry (exhibit 11) sets forth as follows the plans of the Association up to 1890:—

"1. I am the James Bell Cook named in the declaration of incorporation of the British North America Provident Association (hereinafter called the said Association) and I was the principal mover in the formation of the said Association.

"2. I elaborated the scheme or system of the insurance which it was intended to carry out in the said Association, and I believe and still believe that if the public could be induced to adopt this plan of insurance (the details of which are shown by the circular hereunto annexed) the whole system of Assessment Insurance would be placed upon a far more satisfactory basis.

"3. I was appointed Honorary Secretary of the said Association. This was in the year 1887.

"4. We (the incorporators) at first endeavored to obtain members by personal interviews and letters and by interesting others in the aims of the Association. Finding, however, that this course was not bringing in members, we employed a paid agent who was to take applications and appoint local agents.

"5. This, however, did not answer. A member was obtained here and there, but not enough to pay the expenses of our canvasser.

"6. Whether the public could not understand the details of our plan or whether they distrusted its practicability or whether our methods of working were not satisfactory, certain it was that we did not succeed. We tried for three years to push the Association, and did not succeed in all that time in getting twenty members.

"7. In the year 1891 some of the members of the Association thought they could make it a success if the old plan were dropped and the assessments made payable monthly in regular amounts and other changes introduced. The original incorporators were not sorry to be relieved, and the affairs of the Association were, by common consent, put in the hands of a new board of trustees.

"8. The minute book, register of members, cash book, papers and forms belonging to the Association were handed over to Mr. Gore, the Secretary appointed by the new board of trustees.

"9. The said Association was on the tenth day of March, 1890, in operation in Ontario as a lawful Society and as an insurance corporation and had on that day a subsisting and bona fide membership of at least fourteen persons residing in Ontario entitled to benefits or holding insurance certificates under the constitution, by-laws and rules of of the said Association."

3. It is noteworthy that Cook here states that after three years of exertion the promoters of the Association "did not succeed in all that time in getting twenty members." It is further to be noted that Cook does not claim that on the 10th March, 1890, there were more than fourteen members in the Association; and it appears from the constitution above cited, article 4, that seven of these fourteen were office-holders. Finding, as Cook says in his affidavit, that "the scheme or system of insurance which it was intended to carry out in the said Association, did not" succeed or "bring in members," the "old plan" was dropped and a new plan was in 1891 proposed.

But here a legal difficulty interposed. By a statute of 1890, 53 Victoria, chapter 39, section 9, the Legislature of Ontario enacted in effect that after the 10th day of March 1890, no further societies should be incorporated under the Benevolent Societies Act for purposes of insurance, indemnity, or guarantee; also as to societies incorporated before the 10th of March it was enacted that such societies should not have authority under section 19 of the Benevolent Societies' Act to change their purposes so as to include the undertaking of contracts of insurance, indemnity, and guarantee.

4. In direct contravention of that enactment the new promoters on the 11th April, 1891, obtained from the County Judge of the County of Middlesex an order (Exhibit 2) purporting to authorize the Association to undertake endowment insurance. This order also purported to make essential changes in the constitution and government of the Association. Doubts evidently prevailed in May, 1891, as to the legality of the transformations recently wrought upon the Association; for on the 18th of that month these promoters again appeared before the same County Judge and obtained a certificate (Exhibit 3) purporting to be issued under section 17 of the Benevolent Societies' Act, and certifying that the Association is duly and sufficiently incorporated and that the said Association is a Society within the intent and meaning of the said Act; and further stating that the certificate "applies to the declaration of incorporation of the said Association and to the amendments of such declaration by order of this Honorable Court." It is of course obvious, if the Judge's order of the 11th April was made in contravention of the statute, that his certificate in the following month declaring his previous order valid would not cure the illegality, or in any way help the matter.

5. The County Judge's order of the 11th April, 1891, purporting to amend the declaration of the 16th July, 1887, commences as follows:—

"It is ordered that the said declaration of incorporation of the Association be declared to include the following clauses, amendments and additions, that is to say:—

"1. The Association may, upon such terms as may be provided for in any by-law to be passed as hereinafter mentioned, make provisions for the payment during his or her life.

time as an endowment or by reason of sickness or total disability of the whole or any part or parts of the sum mentioned as payable under the certificate of any member."

6. The effect of this illegal change of the purposes was to transform the former benefit society into an assessment endowment society, one of the mischiefs at which the above recited enactment of 1890 was particularly aimed. Founding upon the illegal order of the 11th April, 1891, the officers of the new Society entirely transformed their plans of insurance and published in 1891 the document entitled "Constitution of the British North America Provident Association" which has been filed as Exhibit 8 to the application for registry. Paragraph 13, on page 17 of this document sets out the plans of the endowment insurance transacted, the endowment accumulation period being 5, 7 or 10 years according to the class of certificate. In its application for registry (paragraph 18) the present Society describes itself as undertaking "Endowment insurance payable during life time of assured, maximum in any class (Constitution, s. 13, page 17) $1000."

7. The system of assessment endowment insurance and the scale of assessments set out in section 13 on page 17 of the constitution are closely modelled upon those devised and made notorious by the Iron Hall. But quite apart from the merits or demerits of the particular scheme of endowment, if a society transacts endowment insurance at all, the Insurance Corporations Act, section 4 (2) C., Proviso (a) permits registry only upon certain proof given. The clause is as follows: "Only upon proof by a friendly society duly incorporated, organized and operated, under the law of Ontario or of Canada, before the eleventh day of March, 1890, that the society was at the said date transacting exclusively with its members endowment insurance in Ontario, bona fide, and has so continued up to the date of application for registry, the Registrar shall have authority to admit the Society to registry as a friendly society transacting endowment insurance according to the terms of the certificate of registry." But it is perfectly clear from the evidence above cited that the undertaking of endowment insurance by this Society began at some date after the 10th April, 1891; and therefore that the Society was not on the 10th March, 1890, (as required by the above provision) transacting such insurance. Consequently, upon this ground, if upon no other, the application of the Society for registry must fail.

8. It was not alone in respect of the insurance undertaken that the County Judge's order of the 11th April, 1891, transformed this society. The original declaration of 1887 (Exhibit 1), following the intent of the Benevolent Societies Act, vested the effective control in the members of the Society assembled in annual meeting. So the constitution of 1887 (Exhibit 11) based upon that declaration, enacted (Art. 7) that the Board of Directors and Auditors shall be elected at the annual meeting by ballot by the members present, and by the proxy votes of those unable to attend." Article 12 placed beyond the control of the executive officers four-fifths of the assessments and constituted thereof a mortuary fund for the payment of death losses. Articles 12, 13 and 20 created, regulated and safeguarded the reserve fund. The constitution (under Article 21) could only be amended at an annual meeting by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present, two months' notice of the proposed amendment having been given to the board, and 30 days' notice having been given to each member of the association. But the County Judge's order of the 11th April, 1891, changes all this, and reconstitutes the government and controlling body of the association on the model of a proprietary company, thus rendering the association inadmissible to registry under section 4 (2) D of the Insurance Corporations Act. Paragraph 2 of the order says: "The Board of Directors may at any time and from time to time pass and enact any by-laws for any purpose, and such by-laws repeal, alter, amend or change, as to them may seem desirable, as fully and effectually as the members of the association could pass and enact and repeal, alter, amend or change any by-law or by-laws at any annual or other general meeting under the terms of any by-law or constitutional provision governing the proceedings at such annual or other general meeting." And paragraph 4 of the order says: "The Directors of the Association shall be five instead of seven, and shall consist of a President, Vice-President (or Managing Director), Secretary, Treasurer and Medical Director. Three directors shall form a quorum." And paragraph 6 of the order says: "The directors may from time-to time by resolutions or by by-laws vary the disposition of the entrance fees, dues and assessments received from members, and the conditions of membership, and the amount and time for which certificates shall be granted, and may make provisions for extra and more assessments, and may make provision for the creation of grand and subordinate lodges, and for a ritual and other accompaniments of a secret benefit society."

9. Founding upon those paragraphs of the County Judge's order, the new manager in 1891 published the constitution already referred to in paragraph 8 supra. The "Board of Directors" of the Judge's order appears in the new constitution as the "Supreme Executive." On page 6, article I reads as follows:

"1. The Supreme Executive shall consist of the Supreme President, Supreme Vice-President, Supreme Secretary, Supreme Treasurer and Supreme Medical Director. Three members of the Executive shall form a quorum. The Supreme Executive shall have all the powers of the Supreme Grand Lodge." On searching the constitution for the powers of the Grand Lodge I find the following enactments:

"3. The Supreme Grand Lodge shall have full and complete appellate jurisdiction over all the members of the association and over all subordinate lodges."

"4. The Supreme Grand Lodge shall consist of a Supreme President, Supreme Vice-President, Supreme Secretary, Supreme Treasurer and Supreme Medical Director (who shall be elected triennially) and shall hold office until their successors are duly elected and installed, of all Past Supreme Officers, being members in good standing, and of representatives from each subordinate lodge.

"5. The Supreme Grand Lodge shall meet triennially on the second Tuesday in the month of September of each third year, and shall then elect Supreme Officers for the ensuing term. No meeting shall be considered as duly constituted or as having a quorum unless three Supreme Grand Officers then actually in office shall be present."

Also on page 43, the first paragraph enacts as follows:

"The foregoing and any subsequent constitution and any by-laws of the Supreme Lodge and of the subordinate lodges may be altered, amended, repealed and added to at any time or times by the Supreme Lodge, as that body may, in its absolute discretion, see fit."

As it is enacted in this constitution on page 6, section 1, (cited supra) that the Supreme Executive, consisting of five officers holding their office for three years, shall have all the powers of the Supreme Grand Lodge and that three constitute a quorum of the Supreme Executive, it is obvious that five executive officers have absolute control of the Association and of its insurance funds, and that this control may be exercised by three of these five officers. These officers settle their own salaries and allowances. Thus on pages 9 and 10 of the constitution it is enacted as to the Supreme President and Supreme Vice-President that for their services they "shall receive such sums as the Supreme Executive shall determine." So on page 12 as to the Supreme Secretary; and on page 20, section 23, I find the following general provision: "The remuneration of supreme officers, committeemen, servants and agents of the Association shall be fixed by the Supreme Executive. The remuneration of supreme officers, committeemen and agents of the Association shall be paid to them in such periods and in such a manner as the Executive may from time to time determine."

10. Effective control of the society through their representatives is of the very essence of the Benevolent Societies Act; and no society over which the members do not exercise effective financial control is admissible to registry as a friendly society. (Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, section 8 (2); see also section 4 (2) D.) Therefore on this ground also the application must fail.

11. Any friendly society—endowment or other—applying for registry by virtue of incorporation under the Benevolent Societies Act must prove that it has continuously been in bona fide actual and active operation since the 10th March, 1890. (Insurance Corporations Act, section 8 I. The applicant body has not established this fact; it has not shown that the association, consisting of fourteen members on the 10th March, 1890, is the body now applying for registry. The evidence is all the other way. The affidavit of Cook (Exhibit 11), cited above in paragraph 2, clearly shows that up to the 10th March, 1890, the Association was little more than a mere paper corporation. The Association had not through its three years of existence succeeded in enlisting twenty members altogether (including, of course, the seven officers). Cook will not venture to say that at the 10th March, 1890, there were more than fourteen members all told. Later in 1890 there seems to have been a total collapse. The annual meeting was due on the second Tuesday of September. It was not held; nor was any general meeting of the members held in lieu thereof. In 1891 nothing remained of the British North America Provident Association except its books and papers. In that year H. H. Gore and others who had evidently been studying the plans of the Iron Hall and its imitators, conceived the scheme of founding an assessment endowment society upon the name and charter of the defunct association. But under the charter of that body (Exhibit 1, section 6) the life of the corporation could not for any actual or active operation have been continued only by trustees elected at the annual general meeting of the members; and any new appointments of officers could have been made only by the members in annual or other general meeting (Exhibit 1, section 9.) As no such meeting was had, or could be had, it is evident that for such an actual or active operation as is required by the Insurance Corporations Act the association had ceased to exist. In this emergency the promoters of the new organization applied to the County Judge, who, apparently in forgetfulness of the Act of 1890, granted the order (exhibit 2) referred to in paragraph 4 supra. This judicial order in effect creates an entirely new society answering only in name to the British North American Provident Association, and differing from that association in purposes, constitution, government, procedure, management and in its whole scheme of insurance. Paragraph 3 of the order reflects the serious legal doubts of the promoters as to their status; and purports by a retroactive order to give the petitioners legal status as representatives and executive officers of the British North America Association; also to confer upon a general meeting of the new organization the powers which under its charter the annual meeting of the British North America Provident Association possessed.

So far as I am aware, there has never been in force any law vesting such authority in the County Judges. R. S. O. 1887, chap. 172, section 19, empowers the County Judge to change the name, or to change the purposes of the society. The petitioners did not ask for a change of name; and the power to change the purposes of the society had been withdrawn from County Judges in 1890, a year before the order was made. As stated above, the whole order was in direct contravention of the statute 53 Victoria, chapter 39, section 9, of which enactment the petitioners ought certainly to have reminded the Judge. But for this judicial order the present applicants would have no color of legal status, and the judicial order being against the express terms of the statute, must be treated as non-existent.

12. To sum up: I find (1) that the applicant society undertakes endowment insurance, but was not on or before the eleventh day of March, 1890, transacting endowment insurance in Ontario bona fide; also that it has not so continued from that date up to the date of its application; (2) That the effective control of the insurance fund is not in the members of the society either directly or through their representatives; also that the society is not a benevolent or provident society within the intent either of the Benevolent Societies Act or of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892; (3) That the society was not for any purpose in existence on or before the 11th March, 1890; also that it has not been for any purpose in bona fide actual and active operation continuously from that date till the date of application; (4) That the society is not the British North America Provident Association which was incorporated in 1887 and in whose name it applies for registry.

The application for registry is refused.

8.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE EQUITABLE PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE EQUITABLE PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Tuesday, 20th December, 1892.

1. The Equitable Provident Society applies for registry as a friendly society incorporated in 1889 under the Benevolent Societies Act, R.S.O. 1887, c. 172.

The form of application used by the Department of Insurance requires the applicant in paragraph 20 to state the resident membership in Ontario on the 10th March, 1890, and to support the statement of facts by corroborative evidence.

The Society states that, at the 10th March, 1890, it had a membership of 25 persons residing in Ontario ; but neither furnished nor attempted to furnish any evidence in support of this statement.

2. Paragraph 21 of the Society's application states that at the date of the application (27th June, 1892),* the Society "has in good standing upon the books of the Society not less than 25 members, nor more than 35 members, all residents of Ontario" ; but the Society does not, as the form of application required, either furnish or attempt to furnish any evidence in support of this statement. And even if this statement were properly evidenced it would not make the Society admissible to registry, for 50 is the minimum membership prescribed by the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, in the case of Provincial friendly societies. Section 4 (2) enacts :—" But the following shall not be entitled to register as a friendly society :

"(D) Any joint stock corporation or any corporation which in effect is the property of the officers or collectors thereof, or which belongs to any private proprietary, or which has less than fifty members in good standing on its books."

Registry is refused.

9.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE RESERVE FUND ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION.—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE RESERVE FUND ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Friday, 9th December, 1892.

1.—The Reserve Fund Accident Association applies for registry as a friendly society. Upon examination of the application and the exhibits thereto, I find that the original promoters of the Association, seven in number, on the 29th October, 1884, entered into a written agreement (exhibit 2) under which the steps necessary for incorporation were to be taken under R.S.O. 1877, chapter 167, and were in the same month actually completed (exhibit 1) by the said promoters named therein. This agreement bound those promoters, when the Association should be incorporated, to “formally adopt the by-laws hereunto appended and that we will elect the officers of the Association as follows”: then follow the names of four of the promoters who, under the agreement, are respectively to be made President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary. The agreement then proceeds as follows: “It is also understood and agreed that we will each contribute the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) towards the expenses of incorporation, preliminary printing, postage and other preliminary expenses and such additional sums as may be found necessary to secure the first thousand members, the total amount contributed not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) each, and that all future general expenses in connection with the management and operation of the Association shall be paid by the Secretary out of moneys coming to him except where otherwise provided by by-laws or by resolution of the Board of Directors. In consideration whereof it is agreed that each of the parties hereto, except F. C. Willson, shall receive nine per centum of the amount of semi-annual dues collected, and that F. C. Wilson shall receive for his services as Secretary 46 per centum of the amount of semi-annual dues collected, five per centum of the amount of assessments collected, and all the membership fees and re-instatement fees.” This distribution of the offices and revenues of the Association among the promoters was made without limitation of time, and from all the documents in the case, was evidently intended as a permanent basis for the working of the Association.

2.—On the 14th November, 1885, an instrument entitled “Amended Memorandum of Association and Agreement” (exhibit 4) was entered into by three of the seven original promoters, and three others whom they had associated with themselves instead of the remaining four of the original promoters. These latter, as the preamble of the instrument states, had “withdrawn from the aforesaid original agreement and had resigned their respective offices in the Association.” The instrument then proceeds as follows:

“Therefore we, whose signatures are hereunto annexed, in consideration of the emoluments to be derived from the proposed organization as hereinafter specified do hereby consent to act as Directors of said Association and do covenant and agree that we will jointly and severally carry out the stipulations, conditions and agreements herein set forth in good faith.”

The instrument names three of the six parties as Directors in the room of the four Directors retired. It then proceeds:

"It is agreed that the by-laws of the Association shall be so amended as to create the joint office of Manager in place and stead of the office of Secretary, and it is agreed to elect the officers of the Association as follows": then follow the names of the persons to be elected respectively, President, Vice-President and Treasurer; also F. C. Willson and T. E. P. Sutton are to be elected Managers. After which the instrument proceeds: "It is further understood and agreed that all expenses in connection with the management and operation of the Association shall be paid by the Managers out of the moneys coming to them, save and except where otherwise provided by the by-laws annexed hereto or a resolution of the Board of Directors.

"In consideration whereof it is distinctly understood and agreed that each of the parties hereto, except F. C. Willson and T. E. P. Sutton shall receive for their services as Directors ten per centum of the amount of semi-annual dues collected, and that F. C. Willson and T. E. P. Sutton shall receive for their services as managers the balance of the semi-annual dues collected, five per centum of the amount of assessments collected, and all the membership fees and re-instatement fees."

3.—On the 11th day of July, 1887, an agreement witnessed by Thos. E. P. Sutton was entered into between F. C. Willson on the one hand and W. R. Clark and H. E. Robinson on the other. The whole text of this instrument is as follows:

"Whereas F. C. Willson is now manager of the Reserve Fund Accident Association with privileges and emoluments as set forth in a document known as the Original Memoranda of Association and Agreement and the amendment thereof and

"Whereas there are claims presented to the Association for weekly indemnity amounting to about $840, be the same more or less, and

"Whereas there are other indebtedness against the Association, consisting of Hunter, Rose & Co., for printing, $253; and Petley & Petley, balance on carpet, $7; and office rent from the 1st of June last; and to L. McFarlane, M.D., for examining claims, $60.

"Now it is agreed that in consideration of $240 now paid to F. C. Willson in cash, he will resign his position in favor of said Clark & Robinson, and will hand over all the books, papers, documents, seal, and cut belonging to the Association to them, also will hand over the accounts against agents, except that of A. S. Rennie, and will pay the account of Hunter, Rose & Co. and Petley & Petley, and all other liabilities heretofore contracted, except the liability for weekly indemnity, the account of L. McFarlane, M.D., and the office rent.

"And it is further agreed by said Clark & Robinson, that they will pay or cause to be paid the aforesaid liability for weekly indemnity, the account of L. McFarlane, M.D., and the office rent, and to relieve said F. C. Willson and such of his co-directors as may resign their position from all liability on account thereof and all liabilities that may be hereafter contracted, provided always that the co-directors of said F. C. Willson consent to said change, and will either retire from said directorship or make other agreements as to the per centage which they are to receive that shall be satisfactory to said Clark & Robinson.

"F. C. Willson further agrees to extend to said Clark & Robinson his good will in their undertaking for five years from this date."

4. By an agreement to which there were six parties, and which, from internal evidence, seems to have been contemporary with and complementary to the instrument cited in the last paragraph, three directors who had abandoned the enterprise are to be replaced by two of the new parties to the instrument. The same persons as before were to enjoy the offices of President, Vice-President and Treasurer, but W. R. Clark and H. E. Robinson are to be managers. The remainder of this agreement is as follows:

"3rd. All expenses in connection with the management and operation of the said Association (including office rent, stationery, advertising, etc.) shall be paid and borne by the said managers, who shall contract for the same from time to time in their own names, without making the other directors liable therefor.

"4th. The directors shall be paid the sum of $4 each for every Board meeting attended by them, in addition to the percentage (if any) provided for in the next clause.

"5th. The said managers shall receive all semi-annual dues collected, five per cent. of the amount of the assessments collected, and all membership and re-instatement fees, until the membership of the Association reaches two thousand (2,000), but if at any time and so long as the membership exceeds two thousand (2,000) the directors reserve the right to apply twenty-five per cent. of the semi-annual dues to a fund to be equally distributed among said directors, in addition to the fee payable for attendance at Board meetings, as provided for in clause 4."

5. Paragraph 13 of the form of application for registry requires, as an exhibit to the application, a financial statement "sworn to by the presiding officer and the secretary of the Society," which is to be "a full, true, and complete showing of the insurance fund of the Society." No financial statement answering to the above requirements is in evidence. The application bears date 30th June, 1892, and was delivered on the same day, unaccompanied by any financial statement whatever. Subsequently, on the 19th August, 1892, a paper was delivered purporting to be a copy of a statement by Thos. E. P. Sutton, auditor, bearing date 12th December, 1890, and bringing up the finances of the Association to 30th June, 1890, that is two years behind the date of application. On the 19th August, 1892, the Society was notified to put in a financial statement brought down to the 30th June, 1892, but no further or other financial statement than that above mentioned has been delivered. The paper delivered on the 19th August, 1892, does not distinguish the insurance fund from the funds which by the instruments above cited are made the property of the directors and managers. Inter alia the auditor reports:

"I have not examined the vouchers for payments made from the expense account as they were not all preserved by the managers.

"The item of $644.00 appearing as a receipt for semi-annual dues collected from the organization of the Association to July 26th, 1887, it appears were collected by the former manager, and there is no ledger account showing what became of this sum. It appears to me that the present manager should not be responsible for this sum." Subsequently, on the 19th February, 1891, the directors passed a resolution writing off the sum so unaccounted for. The auditor also reports the sum of $1,201.56 as "balance to be accounted for by Clark & Robinson."

Subsequently, on the 21st January, 1891, on a resolution moved by Robert Clark and seconded by Henry Robinson, this balance of $1,201.56 was charged to the reserve fund account. After such dealings with that fund it is not surprising to find (Application, paragraph 17) the manager deposing, on the 30th June, 1892, that the Reserve Fund Accident Association "has no reserve fund."

6. From the foregoing it is abundantly clear that the applicant body, though incorporated as a Benevolent Society, has throughout been in fact a private proprietary concern, in which the offices and funds were wholly beyond the disposition or control of the certificate-holders of the body. Such an organization is excluded from registry as a friendly society by section 4(2) D and section 8 (2) of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

The application for registry is refused.

10.—APPLICATION FOR REGISTRY OF THE INTERNATIONAL FRATERNAL ALLIANCE.—JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE INTERNATIONAL FRATERNAL ALLIANCE.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

Monday, 12th December, 1892.

1. The Order of the International Fraternal Alliance of Baltimore City applies for registry as a friendly society. Under the title “Insurance undertaken by the Society itself,” the application of this Society for registry states (paragraph 16) that, inter alia, the Society undertakes the payment “of endowments at stated periods during the life-time of assured, according to the expectancy of each individual.” In “The Charter, Constitution, and General Laws” of the Order (Exhibit 7) on page 32 I find that the “Golden Cycle” class pays benefits in Division C as follows :

“A maturity (during life) benefit of $700 at the end of each seven years, according to the following

ILLUSTRATIVE TABLE.”

Ages.	Renewal. Amount of certificate.	Number of 7-year benefits in one certificate.	Life benefit amount payable each 7-year period.
17 to 25	$ c. 4,900 00	7	$ c. 700 00
25 “ 32	4,200 00	6	700 00
32 “ 39	3,500 00	5	700 00
39 “ 46	2,800 00	4	700 00
46 “ 53	2,100 00	3	700 00
53 “ 60	1,400 00	2	700 00
60 “ 67	700 00	1	700 00

The form of benefit certificate used by the Order and filed as exhibit 6 contains the following agreement : “agrees to pay the member, as an endowment or benefit during life, upon the conditions herein named (and make such weekly benefit advances thereupon as may also be provided) the sum of $700, renewable in like amounts as per illustrative table on the reverse side, due and payable at its head office in accordance with and under the provisions of the laws governing the said fund and of the Order.”

2. Endowment insurance is not one of the forms of insurance permissible to friendly societies under section 4 (2) C, of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892. The only exception is contained in proviso A, which relates to friendly societies incorporated, organized and operated under the law of Ontario or of Canada. The present applicant being incorporated not under the law of Ontario or of Canada, but under the law of Maryland, cannot take advantage of the exception. On this ground, therefore, if on no other, the application must fail.

3. Exhibit 12 to the application is an affidavit by Chas. E. Stieff, Secretary of the Order, verifying membership at 25th June, 1892, the date of the application. This affidavit is entitled "Affidavit verifying membership up to the date of Application," and states as follows :

"(1). I am the Secretary of the Order of the International Fraternal Alliance of Baltimore City, and as such have knowledge of the facts hereinafter sworn to.

"(2). The paper now shown me, and marked exhibit 'A.' and annexed to this, my affidavit, is, to the best of my knowledge, information and belief, a true and correct list of the members of the said Order residing in Ontario who are at the present time in good standing on the books of the said Order, and truly exhibits the various dates at or about which the said persons in said exhibit enumerated, respectively became such members of the said Order, and their respective names and addresses.

"3. Said exhibit "A" hereto contains the names and addresses of three hundred and seventeen such members of the order above mentioned, all residents of Ontario and holding insurance certificates or entitled to insurance benefits under the constitution, general laws, and rules of this Society or of its branches or lodges in Ontario."

Section 10 (1) of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, inter alia requires of a foreign corporation which applies for registry as a friendly society, to furnish proof that it "at the date of application for registry has subsisting membership of at least five hundred persons, such persons being bona fide residents of Ontario." The above affidavit of the Secretary of the Order proves that the Ontario membership did not at the date of the application exceed three hundred and seventeen. On this ground therefore also the application must fail.

4. The operations of this Society were considered by the Common Pleas Division of the High Court in Regina v. Stapleton (21 O. R. 697). In that case the defendant was an agent of the present applicant ; and had been convicted by the Police Magistrate of Oshawa for carrying on the business of accident insurance without the license required by the Insurance Act of Canada, R. S. C., c. 124. The full court unanimously sustained the conviction. Rose J. not only held that the Society had been illegally transacting accident insurance, but very much doubted whether, in respect of any of its operations, the Society was for "fraternal, benevolent, industrial or religious purposes" (R. S. C., c. 124, s. 43) ; and added "I should not quarrel with the finding that this was a scheme or contrivance to avoid the provisions of the statute."

5. It may be proper to say that I have official knowledge of the fact that an application has been made to the court at Baltimore to appoint a receiver of the International Fraternal Alliance ; also that the Attorney-General for the State of Maryland has commenced proceedings for the dissolution of the Society.

The application for registry is refused.

GRAND COUNCIL OF ONTARIO, OF THE ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS
—HEARING AND JUDGMENT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT, 1892, AND THE GRAND COUNCIL OF ONTARIO OF THE ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies. (Hearing, 20th July, 1892.)

Between—

THE GRAND COUNCIL OF ONTARIO OF THE ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS,

Applicants for Registry,

THE GRAND COUNCIL CANADIAN ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS,

Contestants.

By application bearing date the 28th June, 1892, the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends applied to be registered as a Friendly Society under the provisions of The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892. In advance of this application the contestants, on the 17th May, 1892, had filed the following statement of objections:

1. That neither the Order of Chosen Friends, the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends or the Provincial Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends have been legally incorporated under the Statutes of the Province of Ontario respecting benevolent, provident and other Societies.

2. That neither the Order of Chosen Friends, the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends, nor the Provincial Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends have a membership of five hundred persons who are bona fide residents of Ontario; and cannot be registered under the provisions of section 10 of said The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

3. That section 23 of said Insurance Corporations Act prevents the said Order of Chosen Friends, the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends or the Provincial Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends from registration as a Friendly Society or Societies on account of their similarity in name with the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, and the said the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends claims the benefit of the provisions of the said section 23.

4. That the said the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends, even if duly incorporated under the Act respecting benevolent, provident and other Societies, has by non-user worked a forfeiture of its corporate powers under and by virtue of section 63 of the said The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

5. That neither the said the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends nor the Provincial Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends were in actual bona fide operation on 10th day of March, 1890, within the provisions of section 8 of said Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

On the 15th July, 1892, after the application for registry had been filed, the contestants filed the following further objections :

1. That the corporate powers of the said applicant corporation have been forfeited by non-user.
2. That the said Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends (even if it had been legally incorporated) has not been managed and operated according to the intent and meaning of its declaration of incorporation under R. S. O. Chap. 167 (1877), and therefore cannot come within the provisions of section 8 (1) of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, inasmuch as the officers of said applicant corporation have not been elected annually and the provisions of said declaration as to the relief fund of said applicant corporation have not been carried out.
3. That the said applicant corporation have no constitution, laws, rules and regulations adopted by said applicant corporation, and have not filed any such constitution, laws, rules and regulations, and thus have not complied with section 12 of the said The Insurance Corporations Act, and cannot be registered ; and also, having no constitution, laws, rules and regulations, the said applicant corporation has not and cannot comply with sections 32 and 33 of the said Insurance Corporations Act.
4. That the constitution of the Supreme Council of the Order of Chosen Friends, filed by the said applicant corporation on the application in question herein, permits members of the Subordinate Councils under the jurisdiction and control of the said applicant corporation (which is a branch of the said Supreme Council) to obtain an insurance of $3,000 with the said Supreme Council and also of $3,000 with the said applicant corporation, in all $6,000, in contravention of section 4 (2) of the said Insurance Corporations Act, and an insurance of $6,000 for one initiation fee has been held out to the public to induce persons to become members of the said applicant corporation, or of an organization having the same officers called the Provincial Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends, as will be shown by evidence to be submitted at the hearing of the application.
5. That the said applicant corporation not only was not in actual and active operation on 10th March, 1890, but has not been in actual and active operation continuously from said date to the date of the application in question herein.
6. That the statement contained in the application of the said applicant corporation that the said Society has no present liabilities apart from actuarial liabilities is erroneous, as the amount of a judgment dated 14th November, 1887, in a certain action in the High Court of Justice, Queen's Bench Division, in which the said the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends is plaintiff and Walter W. Lumsden and others are defendants, by which it was adjudged that the said defendants recover the sum of $330.98 against the said plaintiffs, is with interest thereon to date amounting to $423.66 still wholly unpaid.
7. That the materials filed on the application in question herein by the said applicant corporation are not sufficient to meet the requirements of the several statutes in that behalf made and provided.

After due notice to the parties the Registrar proceeded with the hearing of the application on the 20th July, took evidence, and, after hearing argument of counsel, reserved judgment.

Before the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

JUDGMENT :

12th August, 1892.

In this case the right is contested of the Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends to obtain registry as a Friendly Society under the provisions of The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892. The evidence shows beyond question that on the 17th of January, 1882, a Society became incorporated under that name by filing in the office of the Provincial Registrar a declaration as required by R.S.O. 1877, c. 167, commonly called The Benevolent Societies' Act. The Order of Chosen Friends was constituted in 1880 under a Statute of Indiana, the offices of the Supreme Executive being at Indianapolis. In this Order the word "council" corresponds to "lodge" in the older orders, with the same descending gradations of "Supreme," "Grand," and "Subordinate." It was not as an independent corporation that the Provincial Society of Chosen Friends declared itself in 1882. It was the "Grand" Council of Ontario; that is, a Council recognizing a Supreme Council over it and performing such functions as that Supreme Council had by the Constitution assigned to it. The corporate franchise given by The Benevolent Societies' Act was no doubt an autonomy, if the donee chose so to exercise its franchise, but there was no necessary implication of this kind. The Society incorporated might if it choose (and in the majority of cases did in fact) waive its right of independent action, and might (and did) exercise its powers in subordination to some other body, either domestic or foreign. As appears from official returns made to the Insurance Department, the majority of incorporations taken out under The Benevolent Societies' Act from 1874 to 1890 were taken out, not by independent bodies but by bodies exercising, and plainly proposing to exercise, their powers under the direction either of a Supreme Lodge or of a Grand Lodge. A large number of local or "subordinate" lodges took out separate incorporation, but it would not be argued that they thereby severed from the Grand Lodge of Ontario; or that, if they did not exercise independent powers, they now stand in the position of having by non-user forfeited or incurred a forfeiture of their corporate franchise.

The Benevolent Societies' Act—following too closely the legislation of some of the United States—enacted (s. 1) that any five adults could set up a corporation for any of the purposes of the Act. Whether insurance was among those purposes was long a moot point. Giving themselves the benefit of the doubt a large number of insurance societies took out incorporation, and their view of the matter was upheld by the Court of Appeal (17 A.R. 66), in Swift v. Provincial Provident Institution. We were thus brought face to face with the startling result that any five adults by filing a formal declaration with the Clerk of the Peace could have (for happily such is no longer the law) at once begun to take applications for unlimited amounts of insurance, collect the premiums, and issue policies or certificates.

Where the Act was used for legitimate purposes, the body thus incorporated generally (for a time at least) either exercised its powers under the control and direction of some large body, or refrained from issuing policies of its own until a considerable membership had been obtained. In doing so it cannot be gathered anywhere from the Act that the young corporation incurred a forfeiture of its franchise by non-user. Certainly there is nowhere to be found in the Act any authority for annexing to the franchise such a user as would from the outset make the corporation an independent insurer of lives.

Non-user of its corporate franchise is in the present case relied on as one of the main objections why the applicant body should not be registered. It therefore becomes important to ascertain what functions under the Constitution of the Chosen Friends devolved upon the Grand Council. The Constitution of the Order was copyrighted in the United States in 1883. From the provisions of this document, which have been reproduced in subsequent constitutions, including that of 1892, it is evident that the functions of the Grand Councils were of a very limited kind. The relation of the Grand to the Supreme Council was merely representative and advisory without any effective means of enforcing its representations or advice. Towards the Subordinate Councils the Grand Council bore a supervisory relation, but merely to the extent of seeing that the Subordinate Councils observed the minute code of laws enacted for them by the Supreme Council. (Constitution, s.s. 750 et seq.) Under the Constitution the Grand Council was not a financial corporation; s. 202 expressly debars the Grand Council from any control over the insurance fund. Under this scheme of organization it is the practice for the Supreme Executive Officers to make and sign insurance certificates or policies, while the officers of subordinate lodges or "councils" countersigned and issued them. It has been seen that the relation of the Grand Council to the Supreme was representative and advisory. By proving that it has sent to the Supreme Council an unbroken succession of representatives from 1883 to 1892 the present applicant for registry identifies itself with the Grand Council of Ontario which became incorporated in 1882, and at the same time proves a user of its franchise, or at least such limited user of its franchise as was practicable while it worked under such conditions. These conditions were, it seems, the subject of early and repeated representation by the Ontario delegates to the Supreme Council. In particular, the Provincial certificate-holders seem to have complained through their representatives because the funds were all held and controlled within a foreign jurisdiction. No relief having come, a disruption took place in 1887 among the Ontario members of the Order. One section, the present applicants, continued their existing relation to the Supreme Executive at Indianapolis until December, 1891. The other section—the present contestants—took out new incorporation on the 1st January, 1887, under The Benevolent Societies' Act, adopting the name of "The Grand Council of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends." An action was begun by the Order of Chosen Friends, that is, the Indianapolis corporation, to restrain the new Canadian Order from using the name they had adopted. It does not appear whether the plaintiffs objected to the use of the word "Grand" as suggesting a relation to them which did not exist, or objected to the use of the name "Chosen Friends," having been first appropriated and used by them. After some motions in the case the plaintiffs amended their style and thereafter the style was "The Grand Council of Ontario of the Order of Chosen Friends." The injunction was refused and the case was being appealed when the whole matter went off upon a question of security for costs. The judgment of the Master in Chambers on that question is sought to be proved through a private copy by an unusual kind of secondary evidence, and the judgment so evidenced is sought to be used as proof of a judicial declaration that the corporate franchise now in question had already in 1887 been forfeited by non-user, but even if the judgment itself was properly in evidence, it would not for purposes of the question of non-user be evidence of res judicata. The judgment of the learned Master in Chambers was certainly not a judgment in rem, meaning thereby an adjudication as to corporate status, for there was no such question before the Master: the question before him was simply one of security for costs. And being a judgment inter partes it does not conclude anything, for the same subject-matter is not now in controversy. In 1887 mere non-user by a Friendly Society of its corporate franchise, did not ipso facto work a forfeiture, for the matter was then governed by the common law. Shortt, On Informations, etc. (p. 145), thus lays down the law: "The non-user or long neglect of a franchise as well as the mis-user or abuse of it, may also work a disqualification for the further possession of it." But he immediately adds: "However long the neglect or great the abuse of a franchise, it cannot be treated as having ceased to exist until the grant is repealed by seire facias or quo warranto." In Territt v Taylor, 9 Crauch, 51, Mr. Justice Story said: "A private corporation created by the Legislature may lose its franchises by a mis-user or a non-user of them, and they may be resumed by the Government under a judicial proceeding upon a quo warranto to ascertain and enforce the forfeiture. This is the common law of the land and is a tacit condition annexed to the creation of every such corporation." Morawetz, on Private Corporations, 2nd edition, s. 1,014, cites the foregoing words and then proceeds: s. 1,015. "The charter of a corporation does not expire by reason of the omission or commission of acts on the part of the Company constituting a sufficient ground for declaring a forfeiture, but the franchise continues in full force until the penalty of forfeiture is claimed by the state granting the franchise, and this can be done only through a proper legal proceeding, by which the cause of forfeiture is judicially ascertained." And the legal proceedings to be proper must have been direct, not collateral or incidental. (Angell and Ames on Corporations, s. 777; Morawetz, s. 1,015; Beachon Private Corporations, s. 54; Lindley on Companies, 5th edn., 609.) Thus in a case decided in the Court of Appeals of New York it was said: "These provisions were probably not complied with. They were conditions for a non-compliance with which the sovereign power could claim a forfeiture of the Company's charter. But a cause of forfeiture cannot be taken advantage of, or enforced against a corporation collaterally or incidentally, or in any other mode than by a direct proceeding for that purpose against the corporation; and the Government creating the corporation can alone institute the proceeding⁴; and it can waive a forfeiture, and this it can do expressly or by legislative acts recognizing the continued existence of the corporation." (Matter of N. Y. Elevated R. R. Co., 70 N. Y. 337, 338.

It is not alleged by the contestants that any proceeding direct or indirect to try the issue of forfeiture of the applicant's corporate powers was determined or brought in 1887 or at any other time. Had such direct proceeding been brought, the Master in Chambers would have had no jurisdiction to determine it, and he could not acquire jurisdiction by dealing with the question incidentally or collaterally.

The contestants at first grounded their case, not alone upon the common law, but upon the alleged retroactive effect of the new provisions contained in section 63 of the Insurance Corporations Acts, 1892. This was, however, afterwards abandoned, and I think rightly so.

On this branch of the case, therefore, I find that, whether or not there was at common law sufficient cause for forfeiture of the applicant's corporate powers, there was no judicial declaration of such forfeiture, and that the corporate powers of the applicant body are de facto existent and exercisable.

The applicant body being an existing and valid corporation created by the law of Ontario, the objection fails that the corporation does not by its application show a membership of five hundred persons resident in Ontario; for the Insurance Corporations Act does not require this proof of a domestic corporation. (Sections 8 and 10). The requirement applies only to foreign corporations.

The objection that the applicant body has no constitution proper or peculiar to itself and has filed no such constitution, is not, I think, tenable; for the general constitution of the Order, of which the applicant body is a Grand Lodge or "Council," expressly provides a special constitution for the Grand Councils; and the constitution of the Order having been filed by the applicant body, it has in effect filed its own constitution. But a new relation to the Supreme Council has just been arranged such that, though the fraternal connection is still to subsist, the body in Ontario becomes financially independent; and, therefore, though for purposes of initial registry, the constitution of the American Order of Chosen Friends may be taken to be the constitution of the applicant body, it will be necessary for the latter, before renewal of registry can be granted, to file its own proper constitution and rules.

Then as to the corporate name. The word "Grand" suggests a financial relation to the Indiana Order that ceases under the new arrangement; for the Ontario division of that Order is hereafter to maintain and govern itself. Therefore either the word "Supreme" should be substituted for "Grand," or, as in other bodies, the word "Sovereign" should be prefixed to "Grand." Also, as the phrase "The Order of Chosen Friends" is the corporate name of the Indiana Society, the word "Ontario" might properly be used before "Order." The corporate name as thus amended would be "The Supreme (or Sovereign Grand) Council of the Ontario Order of Chosen Friends." This name would sufficiently distinguish the applicant body, not only from the Indiana Order, but also from the contestants, who are the "Canadian Order."

The contestants are clearly right in their objections to certain features of a prospectus issued by the applicant body, wherein it is held out to persons becoming members that, in addition to obtaining $3,000 life insurance in the applicant body, they could through this body obtain a further life insurance of $3,000 in the Indiana Corporation.

In the same prospectus there was a paragraph announcing a building and savings branch of the Society. The applicant body has explained that the prospectus containing these features, which under the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, section 4 (2, sub-division C) are clearly not permissible in a registered friendly society, was issued prior to the passing of the Act, and that all prospectuses of this kind have been called in and destroyed.

The contestants objected that the applicant body "not only was not in actual and active operation on 10th March, 1890, but has not been in actual and active operation continuously from said date to the date of the application in question herein."

The evidence shows that the Order of Chosen Friends of which the applicant body was an integral part, has for at least seven years been in actual and active operation in Ontario, without interruption so far as shown. The applicant body was the highest supervisory authority in the Province of Ontario, and, though it had but very limited powers of initiative, it possessed and, had occasion arisen, might have exercised, important powers of restraining wrong-doing on the part of either local councils or individual members thereof. If a local council had repudiated its contracts for sick benefits, the Grand Councillor was the proper functionary to investigate the matter and take action in the matter.

The constitution of the Order expressly enacts that the application for redress shall be made to the Grand Councillor, who shall thereupon appoint a trial tribunal. And as to the insurance certificates issued by the supreme executive at Indianapolis, if payment was refused on the maturity of any certificate held in Ontario, the Grand Councillor was the proper functionary to protect the rights of the beneficiary and represent the case in the Supreme Council. So long as the Grand Councillor actually and actively supervised matters within his jurisdiction, and the beneficiaries of the Order within his jurisdiction obtained their rights—and all this seems to have been the case—it cannot reasonably be objected that the Grand Councillor was not more demonstrative, or did not exercise certain potential authority in absence of occasion shown.

The remaining objection of the contestants alleges that a certain judgment for costs against the applicant body is still unsatisfied, and the inference is sought to be drawn that the applicant body is insolvent. An exemplification of that judgment is in evidence; but mere proof of an unsatisfied judgment for costs does not establish insolvency.

Upon the whole, I find that the applicant body will, on change of corporate name as above directed, be admissible to registry as a friendly society.

REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Toronto, January 1st, 1893.

TO THE HON. RICHARD HARCOURT,
Registrar-General.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit to you the following report re the births, marriages and deaths registered in Ontario during the year 1891 :

Population.

The population of Ontario for the year 1891 which has been taken as the basis upon which the rates in this report have been calculated is that of the Dominion decennial census, taken in the same year. The total population given is 2,122,716. The census enumeration was made for the electoral divisions under the Dominion Franchise Act. These divisions being in many cases different from the divisions of the Province for county municipal purposes, the populations for the townships had to be taken from the census returns and arranged under counties. Arranged under counties the population is as follows :

The method adopted in England and elsewhere for estimating the natural increase in population is by taking the excess of births over deaths for the year and finding what relative percentage the increase bears to the total population. According to the estimated rate given in the 50th annual report of the Registrar-General for England and Wales the natural increase for that country is one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) per cent., and the report for 1891 states that the same rate was maintained for that year.

If the same method is applied it will be found that taking the total increase of births over deaths in Ontario as returned for 1891, the percentage of increase is one and eight hundredths per cent. (1.08) over 1890. The cities are separated from the rest of the Province. The increase in these is only .0076 per cent., according to returns, while that in the rest of the Province is one and one-tenth per cent.

Assuming a fair completeness for the returns it is apparent that no English standard can be applied to the calculation of natural increase of population in Ontario; and it is further quite as apparent that the standard of natural increase in Ontario cities cannot be made applicable to the rest of the Province. While, however, we have a right to assume a fair degree of correctness in the returns as a whole which can be made applicable for broad comparisons, a glance at the births and deaths returns for the cities shows that in some cases grave omissions in registration, either of population or of births and deaths must have taken place. Other comparisons which may be made, notably that for Ottawa, wherein the births for 1891 show, as compared with 1890, a falling off of 1,106, indicate so grave a state of affairs in the municipal office of that city that said returns have to be wholly removed from any table, if correctness is to be even approximated. It is pleasing to know that the then state of affairs has, during 1892, been wholly altered.

Examining in the table of county increases, the population for the decennial period, 1881-91, and applying the same rules for estimating the natural increase it is seen that the rate of increase varies notably for different counties. From a comparison of these it would appear that the operation of the same laws which govern increase is observable in the progressive counties as exists in the growing cities.

The following comparison is of still greater interest from the standpoint of the value of accurate statistics. The table below illustrates the natural increase, not from census returns, but from the difference between the number of births and the number of deaths returned. It is not, however, based upon decennial returns, but upon the natural increase between two successive years, 1890 and 1891, as seen in the excess of births over deaths. For the whole Province it will be seen in Table 1 (p. 30) that the natural increase is 1.08 per cent., which compares very closely with the actual rate of increase as already given for the decennial period. If, however, a study of the cities in which according to the census returns the principal actual increase in population of the Province has taken place, it will be seen that in the more important cities there was either an excessive mortality in 1891, (which if Table 8 be examined will be shown not to have been the case), an amazing difference in the birth-rate in different cities, or else that a neglect to register births exists to an extent which is simply lamentable.

Until a radical improvement in the returns takes place it is apparent that conclusions based upon them are, except in the most general way, wholly fallacious.

Births.

The total births registered in Ontario as seen in Table 10 of the report was 44,754, or 3,019 of a decrease from the rate in 1890. While fluctuations in birth-rates are noticed in every county, they are rather in the rates per 1,000 than in the total births where population is increasing. The decrease is notably greater than in 1890, when the total births were 326 more than in the previous year. While it were pleasing to believe that the falling off is due rather to imperfect registration than to absolute decrease in the annual number of births, yet the fact remains that in the cities,—if we omit Ottawa—where registration is believed to be fairly correct, and in several cities nearly wholly so, the total increase in the other ten cities for the year is 135 over 1890.

Sex.—It will be seen by reference to Table 10 that the rule which prevails in every country of an excess of male over female births holds good in Ontario for 1891. The rates is 1,061 for every 1,000 female births. In 1890 the ratio was 1,057. The variation from the English average for the previous decennium is of much interest, the latter being 1,037 to 1,000. There are, however, in different counties in England and in Scotland and Ireland notable differences from the English average. Thus for some English counties, as Cornwall and several in Wales, for an average of thirty years it reaches 1,055 to 1,058. The last decennial average was 1,054 in Scotland and 1,058 in Ireland.

The Registrar-General for England suggests the great excess of male over female births as a peculiarity of Celtic areas of Great Britain. While this same explanation may apply possibly in Ontario, it would appear probable that the occupation of large sections of the populations is a still more important determining cause. Whenever large populations of men are engaged in outdoor pursuits as agriculture, mining, etc., their vigor will naturally exceed that where many are engaged in the confining or relatively unhealthy occupations of manufacturing industries. Such at any rate might seem to be an explanation of the high rates in Ontario, further strengthened from the less difference in the female and male rates for Ontario cities.

Months.—As usual, the various months of the year show notable variations in the returns, (see Table 11). This difference of births may be in a minor degree explained on the assumption made by statisticians that nature is more fertile at some periods of the year than at others; but so far as Ontario is concerned the explanation is better explained by a reference to the Table of Marriages (Table 12). It is there seen that from December to August, with variations to some extent in other months, the monthly number of marriages declines. The relations between the months of highest births and highest marriages may be established by a close examination of the Tables.

Illegitimate Births.—The number of illegitimate births, (Table 13) 637, maintains an average to the total births as compared with previous years. For evident reasons there is a greater likelihood of these births not being registered than of others, unless the fact of many taking place in public institutions, where registration is complete, should make up for the defective returns elsewhere. Assuming an approach to correctness in the figures the ratio of 14.3 per 1,000 births, is an exceedingly low one, the ratio in England for 1891 being 42 per 1,000 births. This rate is the lowest yet recorded in England. Making the greatest allowances for any defective registrations, the high moral status of the people of Ontario is admirably illustrated by the table. The number of twins and triplets always has its features of interest.

Marriages.

The total number of marriages registered in Ontario in 1891 was 14,159, or 23,378 persons married in a population of 2,122,716. The average rate of marriages per 1,000 was 6.7, or 13.4 for every 1,000 persons living. As compared with 1890 there was a decrease of 274 marriages in Ontario in 1891, or as compared with 1889 there was a falling off of 691. This falling off in 1890 amounts to 2.8 per cent. of the total marriages taking place in 1889, and in 1891 to 4.9 per cent of the total for 1889. The cities show a decrease in marriages for 1891 of 104, while 1890 showed a decrease from 1889 of 39. There was a decrease in seven cities of the Province in 1891 and an increase in four. More than 25 per cent. of the total marriages of the Province are solemnized in the cities, although the city population is less than one-fifth that of the whole Province. Reference has already been made to the fact of a falling off in the marriage-rate affecting the rate of increase in births. In the report for 1890 a comparative study of the marriages in groups of counties was made and therein the statement of the late Registrar-General of England is referred to, viz., that the marriage-rate is the barometer of prosperity.

The number of persons per 1,000 married in 1891 in different countries is as follows :

Denmark.....	13.6	Italy.....	15.0

The same notable difference in Europe from year to year in the number of persons married in Ireland as compared with other countries, whether protestant or catholic, Teutonic or Latin is remarkable. It would seem to show that the emigration from that country before the marriageable age is reached, or of both sexes before marriage, is much greater than in any continental country. That this is the explanation of the low marriage-rate seems clear from the fact that the birth-rate is relatively low likewise, being but 23.1 as compared with 30.4, the average for the United Kingdom ; and from the further fact that in Ireland marriages are more prolific than the average for the whole Kingdom ; and more than twice as prolific as those in France. If the same rule be applied in Ontario which seems to explain the low marriage-rate in Ireland, the conclusion would be that many of those persons of marriageable age leave the Province before marrying. Another explanation, however, may be given, and that is, that marriages do not take place in Ontario at as early an age as in European countries. That this is explanatory in part seems evident from the relatively low marriage-rate, even in Ontario towns.

Months.—As has been the rule in past years, December in 1891 is first in order as regards the number of marriages solemnized, and May, August and July stand lowest in the scale. The holiday season in the one case, and the busy season amongst the agricultural population in the other seem to be the most important factors in determining the rate. The fact that amongst the artizan class the slackness of employment prevails more largely in winter in Ontario, does not seem to influence the rate. It is invariably the last quarter of the year which leads in the number of marriages which takes place. (See Table 12.)

Denominations.—As usual in Ontario a relatively large percentage of marriages is solemnized by Methodist clergymen. The fact of the large number of this clergy scattered throughout the country settlements seems to be the most natural explanation of the fact repeated year by year. Something too may be due to the fact that timid couples seeking friendly aid in having the nuptial knot tied, imagine that it will be performed with the least ceremony and delay by the simple forms of this clergy. The number of marriages solemnized by the Roman catholic clergy conforms closely to the estimated proportion of the population belonging to that cult.

Deaths.

From Table 2 it will be seen that the number of deaths in 1891 was rather less than in 1890. Excluding Ottawa, for reasons already stated, it will be seen that the decrease for the Province was 360. It will be remembered that 1890 showed an increase of some 600 deaths over 1889, due presumably to the fatal epidemic of "La grippe." The less prevalence of this disease in 1891 may serve to account in part for the decrease of nearly 1 per 1,000 for the whole population. As, however, the increase of 1890 over 1889 was only 501, and with a death-rate of 10 per 1,000 in the natural increase of some 22,000, which death-rate in children under one year would probably be nearly 20 per 1,000, we might naturally add this to the rate of the previous year. Hence instead of a decrease there might have been here expected an increase of some 800 deaths. Presumably therefore a health factor of some importance is at work, on the whole tending to reduce the annual death-rate. This is found to have been operative, notably in cities, as seen in the following table :—

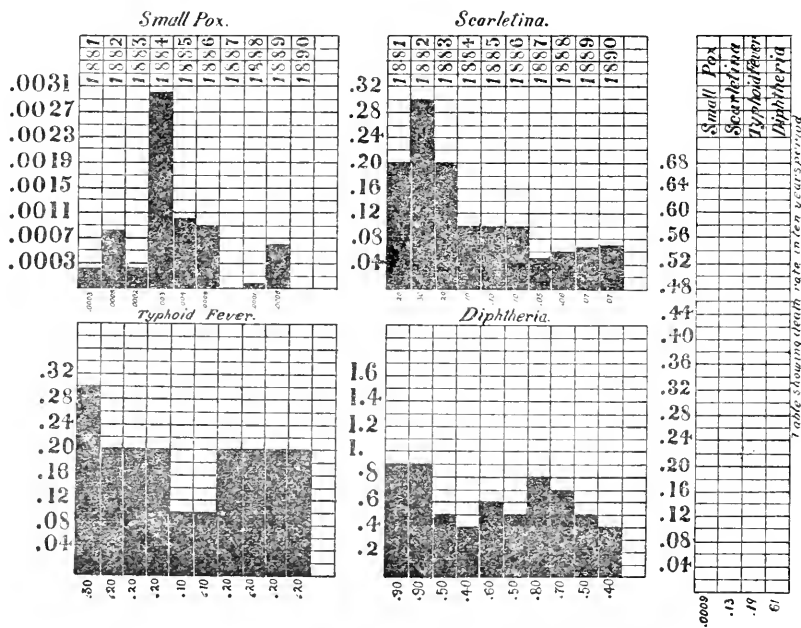

Deaths in Cities.

Cities.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.

The table shows a decrease of 1.22 per 1,000 in a population of 354,004, or a total decrease in cities of nearly 400. In Table 8 a comparison of the death-rate in Ontario cities for nine years is made, which shows an uninterrupted decline in deaths per 1,000 since 1886, when it had reached 21.4 per 1,000. In a city population of the above ten cities this means an annual saving of 848 lives. That this falling off has been principally in the class of so-called preventable diseases may be seen from the fact that while in diphtheria alone in 1887 there were 1,786 deaths in the Province, there were in 1891 only 955. This is graphically illustrated in the following diagram showing the rate per 1,000 for the four principal contagious diseases.

Death Rate per 1,000 Population since 1881.

Localized epidemics of diphtheria undoubtedly were present in 1891, but that these were limited is seen from the greatly reduced total of the disease. The following comparative Table is of interest in this connection :—

The relatively high standard of health in Ontario may be still further illustrated by comparing the following Table of total death-rates in American cities with that of Ontario cities.

Death-rate per 1,000 of population in American Cities, 1891.

The same may be said if a comparison be made with the cities of Scotland, given in the following table:—

Marriage-rate—Ratio, 6.8 per 1,000.

Death-rate—Ratio, 19.7 per 1,000 of population.

Even the death-rate for Ireland, which is usually low, was for the past ten years an average of 17.8 per 1,000.

A comparative study of the death-rates in counties may be made by reference to Table 7, but inasmuch as the larger cities are in the lake-side counties, the comparative influence of their moist climate with that of the more inland counties is not so readily made. In the matter of deaths from phthisis, or tuberculosis, the influence of moisture would seem to make itself markedly felt in these lakeside cities. The comparison is readily and fairly made in the following table between the smaller cities of the same population, while the low death-rate from year to year marking Guelph and Stratford would seem to indicate the salubrious influence of these inland districts some 1,000 feet above the sea as compared with those cities situate near the lakes and on more flat and less drained soils.

The Working of the Act relating to the Registration of Births, Marriages, and Deaths.

In the report for 1890 under the heading "Value of Complete Registrations," the following remarks occur: "Assuming that the greatest accuracy possible has been exercised in tabulating the population of a country and its municipal sub-divisions, it is imperative to next obtain complete registration. This primarily requires the return of all births, marriages and deaths which have occurred during the year. But in order that these may be utilized to the fullest extent possible several points of importance must be attended to. For legal purposes, most that is required is that every birth, marriage and death be registered, along with such details as shall make the identification possible in after years of the individual—evidence of whose birth, marriage or death is sought."

It may be further observed on a previous page, "The registration of births, marriages and deaths has, however, subserved ends much more important, and produced results much more extended and far-reaching in their beneficent effects than those already stated. These results are due not alone to the registration enabling an estimate to be made of the growth of population and the relation of births and deaths to some unit of population, but, further, to the enumeration of the various diseases causing fatal results, and the relative importance which diseases of a prevalent character have to the mortality rate of every community. Says a recent English writer "The registration of causes of death has given an immense impetus to sanitary work, and it is scarcely too much to say that modern sanitary science owes its existence to the registration of deaths and their causes, and the localization of insanitary conditions thereby ensured. By its means we are able to submit to numerical analysis the facts relating to the laws of vitality, the influence of age and sex, of civilization, occupation, locality, season, and many other agencies; and our knowledge of all the facts bearing on health and disease has attained a precision never before known."

A careful study of the records of the Department during past years and an examination of the returns as made by the Division Registrars, as well as the facts gathered by the Inspector, Col. R. B. Hamilton, and his report thereon hereto appended, have caused me to conclude that in several directions the working of the Act in the past has been but partially successful in the attainment of the desired ends. Some of the reasons for this may be briefly summed up.

1. The sparsely settled character of many municipalities.
2. A want of knowledge on the part of some persons of the existence of such an Act.
3. A lack of appreciation of the purposes of the Act, and of the value attaching to registrations.
4. A carelessness on the part of physicians, undertakers and clergymen as to the performance of their duties under the Act.

5. The temporary character of many of the appointments as Municipal Clerks or Division Registrars.

6. A lack of knowledge of their duties by many Registrars, and of appreciation of the value of such returns.

7. Still more the fact that while they are entitled to a definite fee for each return made, they are deprived of its benefits through the terms of appointment requiring them to perform all the duties attaching to their position as clerks of the municipality for a specific salary.

8. To the inadequate remuneration to which they are entitled under the Act for making such returns, remembering that those on whom the duty of making returns to them is laid, are in many cases remiss and require to be communicated with personally or by post.

9. That the duty of summoning delinquents for neglect to make returns, is laid upon the Division Registrar whose temporary appointment makes him averse to offending rate-payers who may have influence.

10. To the opinion on the part of the Deputy Registrar-General that until more adequate remuneration is supplied to Division Registrars, it would be an act of hardship to demand of them always under penalty to make their returns as complete as the requirements of the statute demand.

In the nature of things several of the first difficulties referred to will be in a large degree removed, as our communities become better organized, individuals more accustomed to the performance of the duties which belong to them as citizens, and more appreciative of the advantages to society from an increase of accurate knowledge relating to the causes which promote health on the one hand, and of those which tend to disease on the other. The influences bearing upon these points do not require discussion in this place; but it may be said that the records of the past twenty-four years during which the Act has been in force, while imperfect, are nevertheless full of valuable information bearing upon health, which in successive reports have time and again been referred to. Thus the influences of the clay soils of some districts as compared with the sandy loams of other parts, indicate how great is the necessity for subsoil drainage; while the good effects from municipal drainage works, not only upon agriculture, but also in the lessening of malaria, show in the yearly lessening diseases of this latter type, how intimately associated health is with municipal and social development. Again studies made in the past and illustrated further in this report, show the potent influences of the damper climates of our lake counties on tuberculosis as compared with inland and more elevated counties; while the importance of promulgating proper views with regard to the contagiousness of this disease may be seen clearly when tables set forth how in older settled counties the disease seems to seize during successive years member after member of certain families.

With regard to the carelessness shown in the performance of the duties required of physicians under the Act, it may be stated, that it is in part due to a neglect on the part of our medical colleges to inculcate the important lessons to be gathered from statistics of disease, and of any special attention being given to the existence of a Registration Act in the Province, and the duties of physicians with regard to it. It is a fair question for consideration whether the privileges which are by the Medical Act given to physicians, should not bear some relation to the duties which they owe to the State in this important matter of making prompt and complete returns of deaths.

Clergymen who are specially required to make marriage returns, while not so remiss in their duties, yet have so little trouble in making a return with all the facts before them that they can scarcely be excused for a neglect which is at times complained of by Division Registrars. Undoubtedly, however, with a better paid and more permanent class of municipal officials many of the difficulties incident to the neglect of householders and professional men would in a large measure disappear. How this can be remedied demands most serious consideration. With the progress which is from year to year evident in municipalities it is not too much to express the hope that the value of having permanent officials, will make itself more felt on the community in general and thence upon municipal councils; but there seems to be a further need that the Legislature should enquire into the matter as to whether or not it might by enactment promote so desirable an object. Some unit of population for instance might be adopted, by which a minimum salary might be paid to clerks of townships, villages and towns, and some law might be passed by which they would be entitled to receive the total amount of fees for returns made under this Act in addition to their regular salary. If this were done, then there would be much reason for amending the Act by which they are entitled to an increased fee for each return made. The amount of ten cents for each return as fixed by the Act is wholly inadequate for the amount of trouble necessary to obtain returns of deaths and still more of births. The inspector's report points out how Division Registrars have informed him that in order to get returns they have frequently to spend money for post-cards, papers and postage which in some instances they have to pay out of the ten cents to which they are entitled in case they are finally successful in obtaining the return.

With a view to overcoming in some measure these difficulties, the following amendments to the Act would seem to be worthy of consideration.

1. It shall be the duty of every Registrar of a Township or Territorial Division to send half-yearly to the teacher of each of the school sections of his division printed post-cards supplied to him by the Registrar-General for the return thereon of the births and deaths occurring within any such school section. All teachers shall on obtaining knowledge of any birth or death, within the section, obtain as far as possible all the facts relating thereto and forward the same at once to the Division Registrar.

2. No removal for burial shall take place and no undertaker, clergyman, sexton, householder or other person shall engage in the burial of the dead body of any person, unless a certificate of registration has been previously obtained. When, however, death from a contagious disease has occurred in any township, a certificate of registration from the nearest Division Registrar shall be sufficient for a legal burial; but such Division Registrar shall be required to forward the certificate to the Registrar of the Division in which the death occurred. Where a death has occurred in any of the districts of Muskoka and Parry Sound, Haliburton, Nipissing, Algoma, Keewatin or other district, any certificate issued by any magistrate, whether stipendiary or police, or a justice of the peace shall suffice for a legal burial, and it shall be the duty of such magistrate to register the same, as informant with the Division Registrar of the District.

3. Every municipality in the Province of Ontario shall pay annually to the Division Registrar appointed therefor under this Act a fee of twenty-cents for each registration of a death or of a birth complete according to schedules A and C of this Act, and the ten cents for the registration of each marriage returned according to the terms of schedule B of this Act.

4. No certificate for payment of these fees shall be issued by the Registrar-General until he is satisfied that every return has been made as complete as under the circumstances may be possible.

5. Fees shall be paid at the same rates to every Division Registrar appointed by the Governor-in-Council for any Registration Districts, and not included within any municipality, out of moneys placed annually in the estimates of the Registrar General's Department for this purpose.

The improvement of statistical returns for Ontario draws attention to the desirability of increasing their utility by co-operating with the Federal and other Provincial authorities in the work of having returns collated on some common basis for the whole Dominion. The absence of any similar Department in most of the other Provinces and the very partial work which for a time was carried on by the Dominion Government in collecting returns for the principal cities, but which owing to its partial and imperfect character has been stopped for ten years, have hitherto prevented any scheme being inaugurated for accomplishing so desirable an end. Informal communications had, however, been held between several of the Provincial Boards of Health regarding the possibility of some scheme being devised whereby statistical returns for the whole Dominion might be obtained. At the Inter-Provincial Health Conference called in Ottawa, January 31st, 1893, by the Federal Minister of Agriculture, on the request of the several Provincial Boards of Health, the matter of co-operation in obtaining statistics for the whole Dominion was discussed. All were agreed as to the desirability of such co-operation and of the value of such statistics. After fully considering the matter a resolution adopting the following propositions was unanimously adopted by the conference.

Moved by Dr. Bryce and seconded by Dr. O'Donnell,

"That in the opinion of this Conference it is desirable that the Federal and Provincial authorities co-operate in the work of collecting, compiling and publishing the vital statistics for the Dominion.

"That the cost be divided between the Federal and the several Provincial Governments on some basis similar to the following:—

"(1) That the amount paid for registration be an equal charge upon the Federal and any Provincial Government collecting the same.

"(2) That in any case the amount of indemnity paid by the Federal Government for collection of returns by any Provincial Registration bureau, shall be made upon the basis of the relative number of registrations returned.

"(3) That for obtaining the best results it is desirable that the schedules and forms for collecting returns be as nearly uniform as possible for every Province." Carried.

To illustrate how readily the scheme can be carried out, and to show how small would be the total expense to any single government an estimate of cost based upon the present cost of the work in Ontario, shows that with a grant of some $25,000, the portion of work to be performed by the Dominion statistician in collating and publishing the returns for the whole Dominion can be carried out.

With the establishment this year of registration in the Province of Quebec it would seem most desirable that the larger scheme should have been inaugurated. The Federal grant for the work was, however, not placed in the estimates and it is to be feared that the work cannot be begun this year.

In the following report of the Inspector, Col. R. B. Hamilton, based on inspections in ten counties, a number of the difficulties above alluded to are illustrated.

Inspector's Report.

TORONTO, Jan. 2nd, 1893.

TO THE HONORABLE RICHARD HARCOURT,
Registrar-General.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that during the past year I visited, for the purposes of inspection, the Division Registrars of municipalities in the following counties, viz : Algoma, Carleton, Essex, Haldimand, Kent, Lanark, Lincoln, Leeds and Grenville, Ontario, Prince Edward, Simcoe, Waterloo, Welland, York.

At many of the places I also interviewed the mayors, reeves, members of councils, physicians, clergymen, undertakers and others interested, directly and indirectly, in the registration of births, marriages and deaths.

I find as a rule that the Division Registrars are active and intelligent men; but though painstaking and energetic in their capacity as municipal clerks, I regret to say that they look upon the registration of vital statistics as of minor importance, and consequently their returns are not at all reliable. There are a number of notable exceptions in this respect, but these very exceptions only serve to prove the rule. In most cases where the returns are very incomplete, the registrars freely admit the fact and advance a variety of reasons for the defects, chief among them being the following, viz. :—

1. The people are careless and will not register births and deaths of their own free will, but must be kept up to the mark at all times.
2. The physicians are negligent and will not send in their reports on the causes of death.
3. Many clergymen fail to send in their reports of marriages, and few of them ever think of making a report of a death where no certificate is provided at the time of burial.
4. Many burying-grounds have no caretaker, and even when one is in charge, burials take place without a certificate being produced, and no report is made to the Division Registrar.
5. In municipalities where there are Quakers, Tunkers and other sects that have no regularly ordained ministers, the Registrars experience considerable difficulty in securing returns, as many of these people object to furnishing the required information to any Government official.

These are among the principal reasons advanced for the meagreness of the returns in many instances, and, from personal observations, I can vouch for their correctness; but I must say that the Division Registrar whose heart is in his work seems to overcome even these apparently insurmountable difficulties and manages to send in his returns very nearly, if not quite, complete. To do this he no doubt has to make strenuous efforts, has to interview indifferent parent, negligent doctor and careless minister, has to keep both eyes and ears open so as to learn of the latest arrival, has to scan all local newspapers, and has to look in at the undertaker's to learn from which quarter came the latest order for funeral trappings—in fact, has to keep himself posted on the movements of all the residents of his municipality, some of whom may reside fifteen or twenty miles from his own home. Then, after all these efforts, what reward does he reap for his pains? Look at the returns from the different municipalities and it will be seen that outside the cities of the Province, the average amount received by Division Registrars during the year is less than ten dollars; truly a magnificent sum to pay them for the amount of work connected with their office. But it may be pointed out that the Division Registrar is also municipal clerk. True, but from enquiries made I find that the average clerk does not receive more than a pittance of one hundred and fifty dollars a year, even in fairly wealthy townships. Of course these men are farmers or carry on some other business, but still the duties of clerk take up a good part of their time. In a number of flourishing towns, I find the clerk does not receive more than four hundred dollars salary and has to give all his time to the work connected with the corporation. Under these circumstances, when the duties at present pertaining to the position of Division Registrar are added and only a nominal sum allowed for the work, I do not wonder that many of these officers try to shirk this part of their duty, especially as the Act does not lay down clearly what the Division Registrar is called upon to do. As an instance of this I may cite the fact that in a thriving town in Eastern Ontario, the death returns only amounted to eleven in 1891. Feeling assured that this number was away below the mark, I called upon the two undertakers in the town and found their books showed they had buried forty-four persons during that year. On pointing this out to the Division Registrar, an experienced and intelligent clerk, he said, "Well, what have I got to do with that; if the parties interested do not bring in the returns, I am not going to hunt them up, my time is too valuable for that." On further enquiry, I learned that he considers that the Act only compels him to make any entry of returns sent into him, and forward these schedules to the Registrar-General at Toronto—having done this his work is complete and he is not called upon to hunt up delinquents. What there may be in his contention is, of course, a matter for the Attorney-General's Department to determine; but I give his claim, which was very clearly stated, because many other Registrars evidently have the same ideas, although they do not state them so openly.

As far as actual inspection is concerned, I found it rather a difficult task to carry out, as, with very few exceptions, none of the Division Registrars have any other records in their offices than a few slips of paper or printed forms and make no pretense whatever of keeping a duplicate record of the statistics they send in to the Department. To this fact I ascribe a great deal of the lack of interest taken by the officials in their work, as it is done in such a slipshod manner that they come to look upon it as of very little consequence.

I find that many physicians are entirely ignorant of the section in the Act which calls upon them to send in certificates of cause of death, and these gentlemen are probably the greatest offenders in not reporting to the Division Registrars that we have throughout the country. I regret to say that as a rule they simply do not do their duty, and when such an intelligent and highly educated class fails to carry out the law it can scarcely be expected that "the masses" will comply with it in every respect.

I find that in a great many municipalities the "Registration Act" is to all intents and purposes a "dead letter." Many residents seem scarcely to know that it is in force at all, while many others have only a kind of a hazy notion that reports of births, marriages and deaths have got to be made; but few have any idea that such reports are as much in their own interest as for the benefit of the state.

I have pointed out many of the difficulties connected with the administration of the Act and the question now arises, can these difficulties be overcome and the returns made more nearly complete. I think they can to a very great extent and in furtherance of this idea I beg respectfully to make the following suggestions, viz. :—

In the first place, the Act should be made so clear that every Division Registrar will understand his duties and his powers at a glance.

In the matter of reporting deaths, I think the undertaker should be compelled to get full information and make return to the Division Registrar before interment of the deceased. Of course this would not relieve the physician of the necessity of sending in a return of the cause of death.

As to marriages, I do not see that any improvement can be made on the present system, excepting that instead of ninety days being allowed in which to make a report, there should not be more than fifteen. Also in the case of births I cannot suggest any change excepting that reports be made within fifteen days instead of thirty as at present.

I would strongly recommend that each Division Registrar be supplied with properly ruled books in which to enter each record of birth, marriage or death as soon as it is received. These books to be the property of the municipality and to be open to the inspection of the rate-payers, and a copy of the entries recorded therein to be forwarded to the Registrar General's Department every three months.

I would recommend that the fee for registration be increased so that it may be worth a Registrar's while to hunt up all possible information. For this purpose I think that the sum of twenty cents for each record, say up to two hundred and fifty, should be paid by the municipality, and in addition to this I would suggest that in all cases where the specified time for registering has expired, the parties who have failed to make the return should be compelled to pay the Division Registrar the further sum of twenty-five cents when they do make the registration.

I would also give the Division Registrar the power to charge the sum of twenty-five cents for each certificate of birth, marriage or death he is called upon to give, except when said certificate is required for burial purposes.

I would suggest that section 28 of the Act be amended to read about as follows :—

If, after the expiration of sixty days, a birth, marriage or death has not been registered, then the person or persons required by this Act to report the same shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars—and it shall be the duty of the town, village or township constable to prosecute all such persons for refusing or neglecting to make such report—and half the fine shall go to the informer.

I would further suggest that I be given authority to prosecute in cases coming under my observation where registration has not been made.

In Ottawa I found that a number of clergymen object to carrying out the duty placed upon them by section 16 of the Act, claiming that as they are not paid for their services they cannot be compelled to make a report. This claim I also leave for the consideration of the Attorney General's Department, but I feel satisfied that if my suggestion in regard to undertakers is carried out it will be an extremely isolated case where a clergyman will be called upon to make a report in the future.

It has been suggested by some Division Registrars that it would be a good idea to appoint school teachers in each municipality as sub-division Registrars and pay them a small fee for each return they sent in. After considerable enquiry I have come to the conclusion that while this might be of some advantage in the older portions of the Province it would never do in the sparsely settled districts, as school teachers in these localities are remarkably unreliable in their movements—"here to-day and away to-morrow,"—and to rely upon them would indeed mean to lean on broken reeds.

In many border towns and villages a great many marriages take place where neither of the contracting parties are residents of the municipality. It seems scarcely fair that the expense of registering these marriages should be borne by the municipality, and I would suggest that in cases of this kind the fee for registration should be collected by the issuer of marriage licenses along with his own fee and paid to the treasurer.

In concluding this report I desire to call your attention to the importance of taking some means much stronger than at present used to place before the people of the Province the necessity of registration and the advantages to the individual as well as the state of complete returns, as well as to point out the penalties attached for non-observance of the Act.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. B. HAMILTON.

Inspector.
